

THE WAR WITHIN · BATTLE 7 OF 17

Broken Bridges

The War of Relational Equity

“No person builds their destiny alone. The bridges you maintain determine the distance your calling can travel.”

AUDIO TEACHING OUTLINE

Segun Samuel

People Wars · Stage II Purging · 57–60 minutes

FOLLOW ALONG · TAKE NOTES · DEPLOY IN THE FIELD

HOW TO USE THIS OUTLINE — This is a listener's companion for the Battle 7 audio teaching. Follow the five movements, capture insights in the note spaces, and prepare to execute your Field Orders in the Battle Log.

MOVEMENT 1

The Relational Economy

0–5 minutes

Every destiny operates inside a relational economy. The quality and health of your relationships determine the ceiling of your assignment — not your gifting, not your strategy, not your spiritual positioning. Relationships are the infrastructure of destiny.

◆ The Three Relational Dimensions

Vertical (your relationship with God and with those who carry authority over you). Horizontal (your peer relationships — those running the same race). Diagonal (your investment in those coming behind you and those you are positioned to serve). Collapse in any dimension produces a specific kind of ceiling.

NOTES

“The bridge you burn today is the route you need tomorrow.”

MOVEMENT 1 KEY INSIGHT

MOVEMENT 2

Tunde's Case

5–15 minutes

Tunde is 45. A leader whose gifting has taken him further than his relational capacity can sustain. He builds fast and burns fast. The trail behind him is littered with bridges that served their purpose and were then destroyed.

◆ The Gifted Bridge-Burner

Tunde's problem is not that he lacks relationships. It is that he lacks the practice of maintaining them. He treats relationships transactionally — maximising their utility in the season they are needed, then withdrawing investment when the season closes. The bridges he burned are now the routes he needs.

NOTES

◆ The Five Relational Currencies

Time · Attention · Trust · Favour · Access. Every significant relationship is sustained by deposits in one or more of these currencies. The leader who understands relational currency stops wondering why relationships they need are not available — and starts auditing what they have been depositing.

NOTES

MOVEMENT 2 KEY INSIGHT

MOVEMENT 3

Five Currencies, Five Enemies

15–35 minutes

The relational economy operates on five currencies — and is attacked by five specific enemies. The combatant who masters both builds the relational infrastructure that sustains destiny-scale assignments.

◆ Five Relational Currencies — How to Build

Time (presence over productivity). Attention (focused engagement over distracted availability). Trust (consistency over time in what you say and do). Favour (actively creating advantage for others without expectation of immediate return). Access (the strategic granting of proximity to what you know, who you know, and where you are going).

NOTES

◆ Five Relational Enemies — How They Destroy

Comparison (the silent killer of genuine celebration). Competition (turning allies into rivals). Offence (the relational debt that accrues interest). Entitlement (expecting the relational return without making the relational deposit). Neglect (the passive destruction of what was built — no dramatic act required, just the withdrawal of investment over time).

NOTES

◆ The Offence Protocol

Offence is the single most common relational destroyer in the marketplace. It does not announce itself as a destroyer. It announces itself as justified hurt. And it is sustained by a narrative that keeps the other person permanently in the wrong and the self permanently in the right. The protocol is not to deny the hurt. It is to refuse to build a residence inside it.

NOTES

“Relationships are not a support system for your assignment. They are the primary medium through which your assignment moves.”

MOVEMENT 3 KEY INSIGHT

MOVEMENT 4

The Relational Investment Architecture

35–50 minutes

The marketplace leader cannot afford to manage relationships reactively. The assignment requires a proactive investment architecture — deliberately built and consistently maintained.

◆ The Relational Audit

Who are the five most strategically important relationships in your life right now? What currency are you currently depositing in each? What is the current balance? The leader who cannot answer these questions is operating relationally on instinct rather than intelligence.

NOTES

◆ The Three-Tier Investment Model

Tier 1: The Inner Ring (3–5 people — maximum investment, maximum transparency, maximum accountability). Tier 2: The Middle Ring (10–15 people — regular investment, purposeful engagement). Tier 3: The Wide Network (consistent but lower-intensity engagement — the field from which Tier 1 and 2 are eventually drawn).

NOTES

◆ Bridge Repair Protocol

Not all broken bridges can or should be repaired. But the bridges broken through neglect rather than wisdom — the relationships that ended by drift rather than discernment — are worth a specific repair investment. Name them. Assess what repair requires. Begin the first repair this week.

NOTES

MOVEMENT 4 KEY INSIGHT

MOVEMENT 5

Field Orders & Declaration

50–60 minutes

Five protocols to rebuild the relational infrastructure of your assignment.

◆ Protocol 01 — The Relational Audit

Identify your five most important current relationships. For each: current currency being deposited, estimated balance, and one action to increase the deposit this month. File when all five are assessed and all five actions are scheduled.

NOTES

◆ Protocol 02 — The Offence Inventory

Name every active offence you are currently carrying. For each: the specific incident, how long you have been carrying it, the narrative you have constructed, and what releasing it would require. File when the inventory is complete and at least one release is initiated.

NOTES

MOVEMENT 5 KEY INSIGHT

THE BATTLE DOCTRINE

— No person builds their destiny alone. The bridges you maintain determine the distance your calling can travel.

— Relationships are not a support system for your assignment. They are the primary medium through which it moves.

— The five relational currencies: Time, Attention, Trust, Favour, Access.

— Offence does not announce itself as a destroyer. It announces itself as justified hurt.

— The bridge you burn today is the route you need tomorrow. Some bridges cannot be rebuilt once the fire has taken them.

— Neglect is the passive destruction of what was built. No dramatic act required — only the withdrawal of investment over time.

THE DOCTRINE LINE THAT LANDED MOST FORCEFULLY

THE SINGLE ACTION — TONIGHT

Name one relationship you have neglected through withdrawal of investment rather than deliberate rupture. Write what one currency deposit this week would look like. Make the deposit before this week ends.

Name one relationship you have neglected through withdrawal of investment rather than deliberate rupture.

THE BATTLE DECLARATION

Pray the full declaration from Chapter after completing tonight's action. The excerpt below is the core of it.

*Father, I repent of the bridges I burned through impatience, offence, and neglect.
I repent of the relational withdrawals I made while expecting the balance to remain.
Build into me the capacity for the long relational investment that destiny requires.
Let me be the kind of person whose presence creates safety, whose investment creates legacy.
I will maintain the bridges my assignment needs. I will begin with the ones I have neglected.*

This is Battle 7.

thewarwithin.you · © 2026 Segun Samuel · All Rights Reserved